To whom it may concern,

As the director of the largest Latino arts and cultural center in Central California, it is imperative that the security services provided at our events are of a specific level of quality and professionalism. McHenry Protective Services has become our preferred company of choice after working with six other local agencies. We have found their guards to be friendly and efficient and recommend their services to those who use our facilities for private events.

We feature an annual series of concerts in our outdoor plaza, and MPS joined our team in the 2013 season. Jeromy is able to scale the event security staffing up or down to suit our needs -- we can even request a patrol car for larger functions. We will continue to use their services in the upcoming season and look forward to working with the company again.

Signed,
