To whom it may concern:

I have worked with McHenry Protective Services for three years and wholeheartedly recommend them. They are prompt, focused, polite, well dressed, vigilant, and reliable. I have worked with several local security firms in other positions and I have not been able to say the same about those companies.

I run a Farmers Market that draws a crowd of 5,000 and more to the event each night. We have a street crossing that is dangerous and the two guards that help people carefully cross the street have been top notch! We also put on a sporting event during one of the farmers markets where nearly 13,000 attend and athletes from all over the nation come to participate. We add extra security to keep the athletes and their belongings safe. During this event the McHenry staff, while not intrusive, manage to have the right amount of visibility and presence in a small compact area that makes everyone feel at ease.

With no reservation, I recommend McHenry Protective Services.

Sincerely,
