To Whom It May Concern:

It is with great pleasure that I have the opportunity to recommend McHenry Protective & Investigative Services. As a ranch resort and conference center that hosts many large groups, including weddings and proms, it is of the utmost importance that we ensure the safety of our guests and staff.

During the years that we have worked with Jeromy McHenry and his staff, we have found them to be extremely dependable and to take great pride in the manner with which they present themselves and perform their duties. They are completely prepared and equipped to handle all security situations and on the rare occasions when there are problems or concerns, they handle the situation promptly and in a very professional manner.

Our business relationship with this company is a very valuable part of the services we provide to our guests.

Best Regards,
